

Oarsome Chance

Job description

Student Mentor: Multi-trades

Oarsome Chance work in the Gosport and Havant area of Hampshire and we are searching for a skilled Multi-trades Tutor. The ideal person for this role would need to be passionate, resilient and able to work in an inclusive manner, to meet the needs of the pupils. The school is looking for a candidate with a range of trade backgrounds i.e. carpentry, engineering, mechanics, building, woodwork or an experienced D&T teacher, who can bring something to the project.

The role would consist of teaching/supporting a small group of students or one to one sessions. The idea of a Multi-trades Tutor is to pass on skills that can be used in a future career and get the pupils excited about learning a practical trade as is the ethos of Oarsome Chance.

The board of Trustees are passionate about the project and providing the best learning for the students. There are a variety of needs at Oarsome Chance. We are focused on personalising the students learning so they are interested in a range of areas.

Oarsome Chance are looking for:

- Someone who is resilient and can work with challenging behaviours
- Can work in a Therapeutic and inclusive manner
- Can be creative and adaptable with their teaching
- Willing to build strong relationships with pupils
- To be familiar with, and work within, OC policies and procedures, and risk assessments.
- To demonstrate a commitment to safeguarding.
- To demonstrate a flexible attitude to the work environment.
- To communicate professionally with colleagues in relation to matters related to service users, transport and unit organisation.
- To participate in team meetings, training, supervision and performance development.
- To undertake any other responsibilities and duties appropriate to the nature and salary for the post.
- To help OC students to achieve safe and constructive engagement.
- To promote a student-centred approach.
- To maintain, service and repair of all aspects of OC workshop, machines, tools, and associated equipment. To keep the workshop area in a safe, orderly and presentable state.
